

Aboriginal Data @ Statistics Canada

a free information session on Aboriginal data we have and how to find it

Statistics Canada is pleased to offer a series of free half-day information sessions on the First Nations, Métis, and Inuit data that are available.

Presenters will discuss:

- ✓ Challenges in producing statistics
- ✓ Key sources of Aboriginal data
- ✓ Recent analysis of Aboriginal data
- ✓ How to access the data

Findings will be presented on these topics:

- ✓ Demographic trends
- ✓ Family, community, language & culture
- ✓ Health, housing, & well-being
- ✓ Education, labour, & income

There will be opportunities to ask questions as well as a demonstration of how to access the Aboriginal data that are available from the Statistics Canada website (www.statcan.gc.ca).
